REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

In submitting the following report there are a few things which are of interest to the tax payers of Harrisville. In the past year we have had two cases of contagious diseases. Neither of them was contracted here, but elsewhere and were brought here. We believe it a very dangerous thing to do to remove any one from one town or city to another with any contagious disease. We had some experience a few years ago with just about the same as what happened the past year, which practically cleaned out a whole family. As I understand it there will be a bill presented to the next Legislature to stop the removal of any person with a contagious disease.

Another matter which we all should be interested in is the dumping of rubbish on side streets, or near the roadside. This has been a habit which we want to do away with. It is a nuisance as well as unsightly. This matter has been taken up with one or two, but it seems to have no effect. The law will be fully enforced this summer in this matter, if it is necessary for the public safety to do so, so it is not a matter of what a person likes or dislikes, the regulations must be enforced for public safety.

In regard to vaccination: When the state inspector was here in November, 1915, it was understood that the vaccination law should immediately go into effect, but at the conference held by the state board of health at Concord it was decided, owing to the cold weather, etc., that it would be in full compliance with the law to have all children attending school vaccinated by the beginning of the school year, which is about September, 1916. The cards have been distributed by the teachers and we hope that parents will see that their children are vaccinated and the cards signed by a physician and returned to the teacher.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the citizens of Harrisville:

Agreeable to the laws of the state, we present to the town our annual report.

There has been but one change in teachers during the present year. Miss Alice S. Galvin of Quincy, Mass., was secured at the beginning of the spring term to teach the Grammar school, Miss Phippard continuing in the Primary school and Miss Tuttle in the Chesham school the same as last year.

All the schools are in good condition. The teachers have labored zealously for the good of the schools. They have endeavored to teach the pupils in a thorough manner, and we contend that any other method of teaching is a damage to the scholars.

The order in all the schools has been excellent; without order progress cannot be made and the school is worthless.

When a parent sends a child to school the authority to govern the child is turned over to the teacher who has the same authority to correct him for wrong doing that the parents would have over him at home. The School Board holds the teachers responsible for the order in the schools and will sustain them in all cases where they correct the scholars in a reasonable manner, and we expect the parents also to sustain the teachers in such cases and to give their aid in maintaining the order of the school.

The teacher's position is one of responsibility; her duty is not only to teach the children but to instill into their minds love for all that is good, an abhorrence for all that is evil, and place them on the right path to happiness, honor and virtue, that they may become useful citizens and a credit to the community in which they live. The town's money is well spent to a teacher who does her duty to the children entrusted to her care.

The parents of the children of the town have supported the teachers with kindness and regard, harmony has prevailed, and mutual respect has been the result.

The school at East View has remained closed during the year as the permanent number of scholars has been small; so it was considered wisest to send part of the children to Dublin and the remainder to Hancock. The out-look for the coming year appears to be better and it may be deemed best to again open this school.

The furnace having become worthless, a new room heater was put into the Grammar school room like the one that was put into the Primary school room last year; and the furnace sold for old iron. A stove has also been added to the ante-room for the convenience of the children in the coldest weather.

The interior of the Grammar school room has been put into a more attractive condition, the ceiling and the walls being painted and the desks freshened. The same treatment is needed the coming year for the Primary room.

By the generous appropriation made by the town and the amount received from the state for school purposes, we are able to extend the school year to thirty-eight weeks.
